

06/27/2017: Outdoor warning siren at Oregonia Road in Massie Twp has been repaired and is now functioning.

Attention Massie Twp. Citizens: The outdoor warning siren at Oregonia Road will be out of service for an undetermined amount of time. Due to its age, parts are unavailable to repair the siren motor which is no longer functioning. The Massie Twp Trustees are actively working on a solution to replace the siren.

Please note: outdoor warning sirens are meant to alert the citizens who are outside to a threat that is necessary for them to take cover or seek shelter indoors. When the siren sounds, citizens should immediately seek shelter and tune in to local media broadcasts, mobile alerts, radio transmissions, etc. to gain more information about the situation. Outdoor warning sirens are not intended to alert people who are in their homes. Wind, storm noises, and other sounds may impede the siren's sound from penetrating a home's interior.

Ensure you are weather ready by having multiple methods to receive weather alerts: There are multiple apps like Ready WC or FEMA which can send weather alerts to your phone, you can monitor the news and local radio stations during severe weather, and you can purchase a NOAA weather radio that can be programmed to alert you to severe weather for your area.
